Q. 2. 4+2=6

Ans2a: Generating a link on Google Meet:

Step 1: Open your desired browser; like Google chrome, Brave Browser, Opera, Mozilla Firefox, Microsoft Edge etc.

Step 2: Go to classroom.google.com and then select the class that you want to have a meet with.

(Note: Make sure you have already logged into the correct google account).

Step 3: Click on the settings icon in the upper right hand corner of the screen.

Step 4: Scroll to where it says "Meet" under the "General" header & click the button that says Generate Meet link. This will create an individualized meet link for that specific class.

Step 5: Click "save" in upper right hand corner.

Step 6: Under the stream tab, the Meet link will appear beneath the class code. It is also visible from within the classwork tab & looks like a camera with the word "Meet."

Ans 2c: "All behaviour is a form of communication in and of itself. Any perceivable behaviour, including the absence of action has the potential to be interpreted by other people as having some meaning."

Everything one does is message, even when we do nothing, verbally or non-verbally, we are transmitting something. Actively or inactively words or silence all have a messaging value.

They influence others and these others, in turn, cannot respond to these communications & are thus themselves communicating. "One can not communicate." Even being silent is a way of communicating some kind of message. So it's impossible not to communicate. Non-communication doesn't exist. It does not imply that what we are communicating must be understood by others.
