Q.2C

"One cannot not communicate" simply means we communicate in one or the other way even if we don't want to or do not intend to. When you don't communicate with words you communicate with your expressions.

All human relationship involve a series of interaction and exchanges. No matter how much effort or practices one puts in hiding meaning or intentions, one always transmit messages that can be interpreted.

Ex: You are not replying to your friend because you are angry, you choose not to interact with him/her but this action will communicate to your friend that either you are upset or angry with him. Hence "One cannot not communicate".
